

B&A GROUP

COMPANY SUMMARY

OUR COMPANY

B&A is a Holding Group committed to provide excellent services to our clients throughout our network of companies and partners. In 2003, B&A started as an exporter and distributor of Chinese manufactured goods; and has since expanded to become a comprehensive business platform including project management, business development, and consulting services.

Our expertise is in managing projects from initial planning through each stage of development; manufacturing partner selection, financing, feasibility studies, design, engineering, procurement, construction, after-sale service, and more.

With our headquarters in Shanghai-China, with three regional locations and multiple partners located in different cities across South America, Central America, North America and Europe, we provide a constant source of support to efficiently execute projects. We have successfully completed projects in many industries including:

Energy (generation, distribution, transformation, solar Water heating, cables), Oil and Gas, Industrial Security, Insurance, Construction, Automotive (both vehicles and components), Food and more.

B&A has gained the ability and experience to provide our services and products in the most demanding markets by creating a business structure that supports the execution and success of the projects.

By using our proprietary sourcing methodology, manufacturer selection, and product matching, we have developed unparalleled partnerships and business relationships with suppliers and manufacturers.

LINES OF BUSINESS

Strategic Business Units (SBU's):

B&A Group has developed Strategic Business Units, SBU's, within our cooperate structure in order to serve defined market and industry needs. The objective of the SBU's is to conduct strategic planning in relation to specific products and markets and to develop independent managing structures.

Each of our SBU's have their own legal structure, managing organization and business strategy.

International Agency Representation B&A:

As an International Representative Agent B&A Group has become a pioneer company representing top-tier Chinese manufacturers for the provision of products and/or the development of turn-key projects in the private and public sectors. Through business development, project platform building and project management we have built a team of business development partners and manufacturing partners that work together to meet the needs and requirements of our clients.

Trading Services:

Our Trading Services provide a comprehensive platform of commercialization that facilitates the business activities for companies planning to source and purchase products from China. Our services included: Sourcing and vendor selection, Product Development, Purchasing and Financing, Logistics and Delivery and After-Sales Service.

Video Production:

Our video production services cover all the elements of video production, including: Pre-Production, Production and Post-productions. Our scope of work includes Corporate Video Production, TVC's Production, Events Video Production and motion graphics animation.
